BROADWAY CLASSROOM

Going "Off Book"

These workshops are perfect for groups of any level. Focus is placed on quick thinking skills, creativity, and team work. They can be tailored to any 'groups' level of experiences.

Now Starring

These workshops are perfect for individuals who are seriously interested in pursuing their craft in theatre. Students will get to learn directly from Broadway performers about auditioning for Broadway and the business behind Show Business for actors. They can be tailored to your groups level of experiences – even for non-performers.

Workshops for Students

Broadway Classroom is our spectacular series of interactive workshops designed to enhance your groups Broadway experience. Choose from eight different workshops. The workshops take place in real Broadway rehearsal studios, are taught by an accredited teaching artist and include a bonus Q&A session with a performer from the show you're seeing.

Since 1998, over 100,000 students have participated in this unique program which integrates a trip to Broadway with their studies at school. Our workshops explore different aspects of the theatre profession and can include show-specific material upon request.

Workshop Details

- All workshops are 90 minutes except where noted.
- Includes 15-20 minute Q&A with a Broadway performer
- Held in theatrical rehearsal studios in the Times Square area
- Scheduled at your convenience
- Taught by qualified teaching artists and Broadway performers
- Based on National Standards for Arts Education
- All groups receive a "Study Kit" in advance to help integrate lessons about the show into their class work

What's Included

Hotel accommodations, breakfast and dinner daily, tax and service charges, driver gratuity.

Technically Speaking

These workshops teach your students about the "backstage" aspects of a Broadway show. These are perfect for all groups who would like to get a better insight into the creation of a theatrical production. They can be tailored to your groups' level of experiences.

Curtain Call

These workshops teach students the process of putting together a Broadway show. Learning about the choreography, music, and scene work involved. Perfect for performing groups and groups that want to try something new. They can be tailored to your groups' level of experiences.
